NPORS Cookies Policy

Our website uses cookies to distinguish you from other users of our website. This helps us to provide you with a good experience when you browse our website and also allows us to improve our site.

A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that we store on your browser or the hard drive of your computer if you agree. Cookies contain information that is transferred to your computer's hard drive.

We may use the following cookies:

Strictly necessary cookies. These are cookies that are required for the operation of our website. These essential cookies are always enabled because our website won't work properly without them. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of our website, use a shopping cart or make use of e-billing services. You can switch off these cookies in your browser settings but you may then not be able to access all or parts of our website.

Analytical or performance cookies. These allow us to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around our website when they are using it. This helps us to improve the way our website works, for example, by ensuring that users are finding what they are looking for easily.

Functionality cookies. These are used to recognise you when you return to our website. This enables us to personalise our content for you, greet you by name and remember your preferences (for example, your choice of language or region).

Targeting cookies. These cookies record your visit to our website, the pages you have visited and the links you have followed. We will use this information to make our website and the advertising displayed on it more relevant to your interests.

You can find more information about the individual cookies we use and the purposes for which we use them in the table below:

Cookie Title Cookie Name	Purpose	Duration
wpEmojiSettingsSupports	This cookie is set when a user interacts with emojis on any WordPress website. It helps determine if the user's browser can display emojis properly.	Session

_ga_#	The cookie is a non-essential analytic cookie which collects information that is used to help us understand how our website is being used, how effective our marketing campaigns are, and to help customise our website for you. Specifically, this cookie is set by Google Analytics and is used to distinguish individual users by means of designation of	1 year, 1 month and 4 days

	a randomly generated number as a client identified, which allows calculation of visits and sessions. It allows us and Google Analytics to store and count page views.
_ga	The cookie is a non-essential analytic cookie which collects information that is used to help us understand how our website is being used, how effective our marketing campaigns are, and to help customise our website for you. Specifically, this cookie is set by Google Analytics and is used to record a particular ID used to come up with data about website usage by the user. It calculates visitor, session and campaign data and also keeps track of site usage for our website's analytics report. The information is stored anonymously and assigns a randomly generated number to recognise unique visitors.	1 year, 1 month and 4 days

Choices about cookies

You can choose which cookies we can set by selecting your preferences from our cookies banner.

However, if you use your browser settings to block all cookies (including essential cookies) you may not be able to access all or parts of our website.

If you have any questions or concerns about our use of cookies, please send us an email at info@npors.com.
